SERVICES FOR SCHOOLS

HOW DO WE FIT YOUR CURRICULUM?

The city's arts and heritage collections go back thousands of years, include the works of over 5000 artists and contain historical objects dating back as far as pre-historic days.

Because of this we teach a variety of subjects within the themes of visual arts and history.

Below is a list of some of the subject's schools regularly ask us for both as part of trips and as classes in schools.

We love a challenge though, so if you want to create some exciting cross-curricular activities or have something in mind you can't see on the list below then drop us an email.

HISTORY LOANS BOXES

"We have used the loan boxes for many years across a number of year groups and a range of topics. They are a wonderful way of bringing history into the classroom. They allow children that vital opportunity for the 'hands on' exploration of historical artifacts. The information and resources given alongside the objects also support the teachers in delivering their lessons with confidence and expertise."

ARTIST AND ARTWORK IN SCHOOL

“The whole morning was very organised and the children really enjoyed it. There was clear differentiation from the first and second session to reflect the children’s ages which was great. The children learnt a lot about art techniques as well as how to look at an original work of art, how refreshing to be looking at something more modern than what the children are used to studying in class.”

Art on Wheels

Southampton City Art Gallery comes to your school! Inspiring works of art have been hand-picked by our curators from our outstanding collection, including: a Picasso print, paintings and drawings by Ian Hamilton Finlay, Paul Nash, Southampton-born Eric Meadus, and many more.

You get to choose an artwork from our list of themes then tell us what kind of art workshop you'd like. We'll bring the artwork to your classroom then lead a discussion and a practical workshop inspired by the artwork you have chosen.

HISTORY ASSEMBLY

“Andy was brilliant. He had a good understanding of Year 1 pupils and what would engage them. He also made provision for children with additional needs. The children responded well to him and remembered much of the information he delivered in a fun and interactive manner.”

- Netley Marsh Infant School

Interactive assemblies

Whole year-group history assemblies are a fantastic 'hook' for your history topic to educate, entertain and enthuse your students!

It couldn't be simpler: a member of the museums learning team will come to you with objects, props and costumes to introduce your year group to the history topic you have chosen.

Our whole-year assemblies last between 45 minutes and an hour and are chocked full of games, stories, and other interactive elements.

TEACHER TRAINING SESSIONS

“We all had a really enjoyable morning and spent the afternoon putting the ideas into planning so I hope it will have a big impact on enthusiasm and confidence for art teaching at Fairisle.”

Sessions can be delivered in school, at our venues or online and tailored to your individual needs.

We can include lesson ideas for cross-curricular learning, planning a successful visit, how to use our collections in your own setting, ideas for improving confidence in using and promoting art in your classroom.

Online sessions

We realise how quickly things are changing at the moment and that booking a trip may feel like a risk to you and your parents.

However, we can still bring art and history to your students via Zoom or the platform of your choice, providing fun, interactive and activity packed sessions.

We've developed a range of lessons that work well online, incorporating games, sounds, object handling and storytelling to ensure your children are inspired. Lessons last approximately an hour although this can be adjusted to suit the age of your children and school timetable.

HANDS- ON HISTORY WORKSHOPS IN SCHOOL OR WITH US

“We hugely appreciate the flexibility of the staff to facilitate a tailored learning experience for our children. They gained historical knowledge and understanding but this was contextualised for them by standing at the different sites and with excellent use of additional resources. They talked a great deal about what they had learned and applied it in their following work.”

Hands on History Workshops

From Pre-history to present day, we teach a wide range of workshops exploring historical periods and people. Whether studying Southampton's past or looking at a general history topic our hands-on workshops are perfect for inspiring inquisitive minds.

All sessions will include object-based activities so the children can experience handling museum artifacts. If you chose to visit us then there are several tours to choose from including our famous 'Old Town' tour. Your children will be amazed to learn what lies beneath their feet.

CREATIVE CURRICULUM PLANNING

*"I just wanted to say a big
"Thank you" for our INSET on Monday. It covered just what we needed it to, in a fun way and we have taken many great ideas back to use in school.
Many of the staff expressed what a good day it had been. "Best INSET ever!" was said by more than one teacher."*

Dear Staff of the Education Department,

I thank you for filling all of our brains with information and important facts about Art and Sir Edward Byrne Jones. I really enjoyed the workshop and I have heard that Perseus' story version before I learnt that if you do a blob it can still be Art. I look forward to visiting again,

Thank you for letting us come to the Sea City Museum. We found the tour very interesting, it was amazing!! We found out about the names of the passengers and crew on the Titanic. The true and false game was fun and we found out more facts. We loved dressing up as passengers and crew on board. It was good steering the ship and shoveling coal into the boilers. Some of the class even managed to send the message using Morse Code.

Thank you
Love from Year 2

Thank You for showing us around your Art Gallery, informing us about the art and instructing my classmates about how to make Perseus' Sandals. I learnt lots of facts. The most interesting one was Sir Edward Byrne - Jones died before he could complete his paintings. I really enjoyed looking around your Art Gallery.
